Milking, except for a short period after the CARRIAGES OF ALL KINDS, birth of a calf, is altogether an artificial process. Nature intended animals to yield milk only while it should be necessary for the sustenance of the young; but by long training, artificial habits have been induced, and the flow of milk is prolonged for months, and DEALER IN DRY GOODS, CROCKERY HARDWARE even for years, after the natural period has passed. Partly for this reason, no secretion of the cow is more easily affected by treatment of the animal. Any derangement of health, insufficient food, or bodily discomfort at once shows its effect in the decreased MILLINERY & DRY GOODS quantity and quality of the milk. It should also be borne in mind that the continued flow of milk beyond the natural period is no small Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, and life-size Photographs Better and cheaper than elsewhere. drain upon the vital functions of an animal, and this should be counterbalanced by extra stimulus in the form of good nourishing Office with J. At this season of the year change of food is necessary. Long before the pastures are entirely despoiled of verdure, the grasses nipped by repeated frosts lose much of their untriment. Though cows may gather their fill, speedily suffers. A daily allowance of bran, thirds outs with one third corn, will supply the lack of nourishment, and show itself, with good interest added, in the milk pail. This feed should be wet before using. We prefer it to feeding with hav, for the reason that nourishment, more than bulk, is needed; they can pick up enough partly withered grass to DRUGGISTS, and dealers in Paints, Oils, and Varnishes. fill their stomachs. This extra allowance should not be delayed until the animal is suffering from insufficient food. It is far easier to keep a cow in good condition, than to bring her up after falling off.

Pumpkins are usually fed out first, upon failure of the pastures. If it be practicable Dealer in Stoves, TIN WARE, WOODEN & GLASS to keep them uninjured until later in the season, it would be better. They come in best when dry hay and stalks are the staple diet, and something more succulent is craved and needed. It is best to remove the seeds from LIVERY STABLE. Stable on Central street, near St Johnsbury House pumpkins; they are an active diuretic, and many believe that they divert to urine fluids which would form milk.

Any person who has been long confined to a single article or two of food, say to salt beef and potatoes, knows how the appetite craves a change. The greediness with which cows lay hold of turnips, mangel wurzels, or other roots in winter, proves that they, too, relish variety, and in the case of healthy animals, appetite is a safe guide in the selection of food. Even if roots were lacking-in nutriment, an occasional allowance of them to cattle would be beneficial.

Observe strict regularity in the time of feeding. If meals are regularly served, animals will patiently wait the appointed time; otherwise, they will be restless and uneasy while looking for supplies, and ravenous when

Besides the actual loss of food from the increased amount required under exposure to cold, there is fur- Lite and Fire Insurance Agents, ther loss in milk from the feeling of discomfort. The secretions are always distured by influences that cause pain or uneasiness, and every shiver of a half-frozen cow will make itself visible in the milk pail,

In their anxiety to secure warmth, many have overlooked the importance of pure air. Close, crowded stables, reeking with odors from accumulating manure, produce feverish restlessness in the cows, and the flow of milk suffers. At best, confinement during the winter months is irksome to animals, and kindness to brutes, as well as profit, demands that everything practicable should be done to secure their comfort .- American Agriculturalis!.

1 vol., large 12mo. Price $1.25.

The critics and the public are right in predicting that this will surpass, in graphic narrative, exciting interest, and extensive popularity, all other histories of the War for the Union. Its theme will be the heroic darling, pathen suffering and hair breadth escapes of our soldiers and saliors, and its incidents will form the theme of con-versation at immunerable breades for years to come. It will contain, to addition to its stirring detains, the philosophical Analysis of the Causes of the War, by Jones Loringor Moresty, LL. D., author of "The Rise of the Dutch Republic" etc., the dates of all the important events from the John Brown raid, and an accurate and revised account of the principal battles, with engravings.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call Schofula lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is va- Fuli " Cheoplastic, riously caused by mercurial disease, low Half " living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, Half " the depressing vices, and, above all, by Temporary upper set. the venereal infection. Whatever be its descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh"

healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is CLARKE. known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints. is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases. Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN Almanac, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER's SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester and vigorous health will follow. By its pecuhar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it. We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.
